From the director:

Welcome to August! Festival season is in full swing, and I continue to be delighted by discovering all of the talent that abounds in the Pocono region. Last month, I alluded to a brand new undertaking at Pocono Arts Council slated for September 29 & 30. I am pleased to introduce the "Pocono Mountains of Art - Open Studio Tour." This will be a self-guided tour of select Pocono Arts Council members' studios where visitors can see how artists create their handmade art and fine crafts and have the opportunity to make purchases in a relaxed setting. Any willing Pocono Arts Council artist member with a studio is able to be included on the map for a small entrance fee. Please contact the council office, if you're interested, and we'll be sure you receive an application. Details and further information is available in the body of the newsletter. Also, here is another interesting opportunity for our members to explore: The Dunning Art Gallery at Northampton Community College has unveiled the fall theme, and the Pocono Arts Council has been invited to choose 10 pieces for submission in the RescueDog Exhibit which opens in September. More information is included under the Opportunities section at the back of the newsletter. Wishing everyone an enjoyable summer season, and I look forward to continuing our efforts to promote the arts throughout the rest of my first year as your new director.

14th Annual Festival of Wood

August 4-5, 2018
Grey Towers National Historic Site in Milford, PA
"A celebration of our natural and cultural heritage of wood"

The family-friendly and free event will be held on Saturday, August 4 and Sunday, August 5 and offers a variety of activities and events that demonstrate the many ways we use and enjoy wood in our everyday lives. Entry to the grounds, parking and a shuttle are free. Self-guided tours of the Grey Towers mansion are $5 per person.

The Festival hours are 10am-5pm on Saturday, August 4 and 10am-4pm on Sunday, August 5. For a schedule of events or more information, call (570) 296-9630 or email greytowers@fs.fed.us. A schedule and map of the Festival activities can be downloaded at www.fs.usda.gov/greytowers and www.greytowers.org.

What's new? This year the US Forest Service and its partners are welcoming stilt walkers, introducing 21st Century technology to the historic site, and expanding the free children's activities. Back by popular demand are free musical performances, including the Dixieland All Star Band and The Lost Ramblers acoustic folk music.

There is something for everyone:

- Craftsmen and artists from throughout the region will exhibit, sell and demonstrate their crafts, all made from wood. Co-sponsored by the Pocono Arts Council, the crafts component illustrates how beautiful objects that we use in our everyday lives are created from wood.

Festival of Wood

- Children's activities include games and toys using wood and other craft activities. A cross-cut saw activity and visits from Smokey Bear and Woodsy Owl also are planned.
- Educational exhibits and informational handouts on such topics as beekeeping, Chestnut trees, regional conservation initiatives, will be ongoing throughout the weekend.
- Free music with wood instruments will be provided each day.
- Demonstrations on tree pruning and a portable sawmill are planned.
- A free wildlife show is planned for each day.
- Chain Saw Chix will demonstrate chain saw carving three times a day, each day.
- Refreshments will be available for sale.

Visitors of all ages are encouraged to download the free Agents of Discovery app to their personal devices before they arrive so they can play the Grey Towers Agents of Discovery missions and win free gifts. Visitors also are encouraged to download the QR code reader in advance so they can learn more about the trees at Grey Towers by scanning the QR codes on the Tree ID signs.

The event is offered by the US Forest Service, the Grey Towers Heritage Association, the Pocono Arts Council and numerous partners, participants and collaborators.

Pocono Mountains of Art

"Open Studio Tour"

Save the date for the Pocono Mountains of Art "Open Studio Tour" to take place September 29-30. Monroe County artists will have the opportunity to open their studios and to give visitors a first-hand glimpse of their creative process and have the opportunity to purchase original artwork on the spot. Artists, if you are interested in being a stop on the tour, please email Sue Randall at director@poconoarts.org.

NEW Studio Art Classes

The Pocono Arts Council is pleased to present new four-week classes taught by talented instructors. Thanks to our studio art coordinator, Carolyn Hetherington, we are excited to offer these new art classes and hope you take advantage of the opportunity. If you've been thinking about taking an art class, why wait? Do something good for yourself and sign up today! <http://poconoarts.org/programs/classes-workshops/>

Pocono State Craft Festival 2018

August 25-26, 2018
Quiet Valley Living Historical Farm

The 32nd annual Pocono State Craft Festival will be held August 25-26, 2018 at the Quiet Valley Living Historical Farm, 347 Quiet Valley Road, Stroudsburg, PA. The event, co-sponsored by the Pocono Arts Council and the Pocono Chapter of the Pennsylvania Guild of Craftsmen, celebrates the heritage, beauty and quality of Pennsylvania Crafts.

Since the first festival in 1986, the Pocono State Craft Festival has attracted the finest artists and craftspeople from across the United States and features traditional and contemporary handmade items. A destination for the discerning collector of quality art and fine crafts, patrons will find beautiful handcrafted items in pottery, jewelry, metal, stained glass, wood, baskets, leather, folk art, fine art, photography, soap, gourmet foods, and art-to-wear. Craftsmen will travel from all parts of Pennsylvania as well as New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, West Virginia and North Carolina. Live demonstrations will captivate patrons and bring the creative process to life – from raw material to finished product. All craftsmen will be available to discuss their individual work and provide patrons with an opportunity to purchase unique, high quality crafts worthy of the most ardent admirer.

Festivalgoers will also enjoy the beautiful surroundings and history of the Quiet Valley Living Historical Farm. The farm buildings, animals and beautiful gardens will be open to give visitors a taste of a 19th century Pennsylvania German farm. There will be live music from the Lost Ramblers on Saturday and a musical performance by the Music Theater Organization of East Stroudsburg University on Sunday, plus a variety of festival foods and baked goods from Quiet Valley. The entire family will enjoy a day in the country, strolling through the colorful tents and grounds at the farm.

Festival hours are 10am-5pm on both Saturday and Sunday, rain or shine. Admission is $6.00 for adults; children 12 and under are admitted free. Parking is free. Quiet Valley is a working farm and there is absolutely NO PETS AND NO SMOKING PERMITTED ON THE PROPERTY. Since the festival is located on a historical working farm with grass and gravel driveways, it is not fully ADA compliant, however, many folks using wheel chairs and walkers enjoy the festival.

Volunteerism

At this year's Spring for the Arts annual fundraising event held May 4 at Stroudsmoor Country Inn, Executive Director Sue Randall introduced the "Laura Goss Volunteer of the Year Award." To honor Laura and her 25 years of dedicated service to the arts council, each year, going forward, an outstanding volunteer will be recognized for his or her valuable contribution to the Pocono Arts Council and its mission to support the arts in our community. The award will be bestowed annually to a volunteer whose dedicated service makes a significant impact over the course of a year. Criteria for evaluating the award is in development and the first recipient will be recognized at the Annual Meeting in December 2019. The winner's name will be engraved on a plaque that will be permanently installed in the ARTSPACE Gallery.

The Pocono Arts Council is comprised of a small staff and a board of directors that depends on and is appreciative of the volunteer efforts of its members. Many volunteer opportunities exist, such as gallery sitters on weekends, helping hands at special events and festivals, auction donation team members, newsletter and communication assistants, administrative assistants, and graphic artists. We welcome your assistance!

Pennsylvania Youth Orchestra Welcomes New Director

The Pocono Youth Orchestra (PYO) welcomes new director, Joseph Choi. Concurrently, Choi also serves as conductor of Loudoun Symphony Youth Orchestra, Leesburg, Va., orchestra director with Grace Academy, Hagerstown, Md., and is working on finishing his Doctor of Musical Arts (DMA) in orchestral conducting at the Shenandoah Conservatory of Music, Winchester, Va. He is music director of Calvary United Methodist Church in Mt. Airy, Md. and artistic director and conductor of the Maryland Chamber Orchestra. Originally from South Korea, he has lived in the U.S. for more than 31 years. Along with his wife Angela, and their son Nathaniel, he resides in Falling Waters, W.V.

The PYO is a not-for-profit organization founded in 1987 by parents of young musicians, with the vision that their children would play together in a musical ensemble and provide them with a valuable educational and cultural outlet. For more information, visit www.pocono-youth-orchestra.org.

PoconoArts Volunteer Opportunities

ARTSPACE Gallery and the Gallery Shop

The Pocono Arts Council relies on volunteer gallery sitters on Saturdays and Sundays in the summer. You can sign up for a slot from 10am-1pm or 1-4pm. “RESCUEdog” Call for Entries, We’ve all seen the bumper sticker – Who Rescued Who? But have we fully considered the complex relationships between humans and canines? Dogs serve multi-faceted roles in our society and at home. They protect and serve in our military and police forces. They are trained to work with the physically and mentally disabled. There are service, assistance, therapy, and emotional support dogs. Many of us welcome them into our homes where they make up much of the fabric of our family lives. The RESCUEdog exhibit is an opportunity to capture dogs as rescuer and rescued. Providers of emotional and physical rescue. Our canine heroes and protectors. Humankind’s best and longest friend.
